Thank you, Stack's Bowers Galleries!

January 30, 2025

Good Morning Brian,

Our family would like to acknowledge your employees at Stack's Bowers Galleries in Philadelphia. They were extremely conscientious with the recent auction of my father-in-law's coin collection, the Darrel O. Neidigh, Jr. Collection. Dealing with Mark and his team was extremely easy, and they were very caring with all our questions and needs. It was a true pleasure to work with them as we had never gone through something like this before.

Dad passed away in February 2024 at 100 years old. He was a decorated World War II veteran, a retired Dupont engineer and an avid coin collector. He started collecting rare gold coins at his first job with the Eli Lilly Company. He enjoyed the hobby of numismatics for over 70 years while he acquired many rare and attractive pieces, always sharing his enthusiasm with others. He gifted his collection to us 13 years ago and we stored that portion in a safe, not touching them until last July. We could never consider selling something that Dad truly valued and cared so deeply about. Once he passed, we had to make the difficult decision as to what would be best for our family and how to best honor Dad at the same time.

When he originally gifted his holdings to us, Dad suggested that when the time came to sell there were two firms we should contact – the agencies he had dealt with most in his numismatic endeavors. One of these suggestions was Stack's Bowers Galleries. When we contacted the other firm, we did not get a good feeling from them. They seemed to lack the caring attitude we felt Dad's collection deserved.

We then made an appointment with your Philadelphia office, and my wife and I delivered the coins to that location for inspection. Once Mark Schimel, Bobby Avena and Mark Curcio began looking through Dad's coins, we immediately realized this was the company that should handle our inheritance. The excitement that your employees showed while viewing this collection was very heartwarming. It was exactly what we were looking for in a company. We wanted Dad's legacy to live on by sharing the enjoyment he experienced with others who had the same interest. He would be delighted that other enthusiastic collectors would be excited about adding his coins to their collections.

We are forever grateful to Mark and his entire team for the spectacular job they did showcasing Dad's collection and realizing equally spectacular results. The Philadelphia team was both professional and easy to work with every step of the way. They showed care and excitement for what we presented them, and they treated us like family rather than as a business opportunity.

Thank you for employing such wonderful people.

R.J.C.

May 2025

Dear Fellow Collector,

When we receive kind words such as those from one of our collector families shared on the previous page, it reinforces our commitment to the exceptional customer service that Stack's Bowers Galleries is known for. We are reminded that the way we work with consignors and families and how we present a collection at auction to pay tribute to a collector's efforts is as vitally important as realizing top market price. Over the decades, providing excellent service and achieving top prices have been and remain the Stack's Bowers Galleries tradition. Thank you, R.J.C!

As we look forward to the remainder of 2025, I'm happy to report the numismatic market remains robust, displaying increased worldwide interest across all collecting specialties. With the spot price of gold regularly hitting record highs, buyers of numismatic rarities and precious metals continue to aggressively add to their holdings. Now is the perfect time to take advantage of current market dynamics and realize top market price.

Once again, we are serving as an official event auctioneer partner of the American Numismatic Association World's Fair of Money®. Many important, active dealers and hobbyists will be on hand to view our auction lots and participate in our sales of ancient coins, world coins and paper money, and United States coins, currency and numismatic Americana.

Our entire team stands ready to assist you with bringing your entire collection, individual pieces or duplicates to market in association with one of the most anticipated convention and auction events of the year. Stack's Bowers Galleries provides unmatched numismatic expertise across all specialties, industry leading services and technology, and an enthusiastic customer base set to achieve superb results for your consignment. We pledge to showcase your holdings to our global clientele of proven buyers through our unmatched auction presentation, exceptional cataloging, global marketing efforts, extraordinary photography and patented Coins in Motion animations.

Specialized Collections are Our Specialty

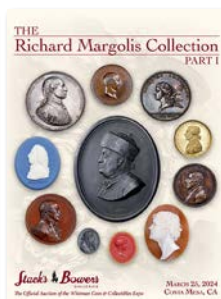

The Stack's Bowers Galleries brand was not just built on the sale of single-owner sales full of marquee rarities — Garrett, Norweb, Eliasberg, Pogue — but on thoughtfully formed cabinets of like objects that created an opportunity to introduce a specialty to a wider audience upon their dispersal. We earn the trust of advanced collectors because we approach their cabinets like collectors do: by adding value to both rare and obscure with unparalleled research, and by offering groups of like items that approach a collection like a collector, not like a liquidator. There is no substitute for that kind of understanding, both for producing a catalog that showcases a collection's breadth and depth, and for respecting the material enough to let each object's best characteristics shine through.

2024 Numismatic Literary Guild Awards

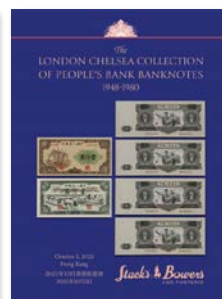

Since the NLG's establishment in 1968, Stack's Bowers Galleries and its predecessor firms have won more Auction Catalog of the Year awards than any other firm, dozens of Book of the Year honors across multiple categories, as well as a variety of web-site and media awards. These awards attest to the firm's legacy of informative and enduring contributions to the literature, knowledge and culture of the hobby.
